Description

The 2020 20 reg Ford Ranger 2.0 TDCi 130 BHP XL EcoBlue 4x4 Single Cab Auto finished in Black is a tough, dependable, and highly capable pickup built to handle demanding workloads with ease. Combining Ford's renowned durability with modern EcoBlue efficiency, this single cab Ranger is engineered for performance, practicality, and reliability both on and off the road.

Powered by a robust 2.0-litre TDCi diesel engine producing 130 bhp, paired with a smooth automatic transmission and a 4x4 drivetrain, this model delivers confident traction, impressive torque, and refined driving dynamics. Whether tackling off-road terrain or long motorway hauls, the Ranger provides outstanding capability and control, making it a trusted partner for commercial and agricultural applications alike.

Finished in sleek Black, the exterior presents a bold and professional image. The load area is equipped with a practical load liner, offering protection and durability for transporting tools, materials, or equipment. The single cab design maximises load bed length, ensuring maximum utility for heavy-duty use.

Inside, the cabin is functional yet comfortable, designed to withstand daily use while offering key convenience features. Air conditioning keeps the workspace cool and comfortable, while Bluetooth connectivity allows for safe hands-free communication. Electric windows and a DAB radio further enhance everyday usability, with power-assisted steering ensuring effortless control in all driving conditions.

Overall, this 2020 Ford Ranger 2.0 TDCi 130 BHP XL EcoBlue 4x4 Single Cab Auto in Black is a hardworking and reliable pickup, ideal for businesses or individuals who need a robust vehicle that performs as well on rough terrain as it does on the road. With its efficient powertrain, automatic gearbox, and proven Ford build quality, it's a practical and dependable workhorse built to deliver day after day.
